

My Walk with Jesus

Experienced by Christine Youngblood – A victim soul

Definition: A victim soul is an individual who has been chosen by God to undergo physical, and sometimes spiritual, suffering beyond that of normal human experience. The victim soul willingly accepts this unique and difficult mission of offering up his or her pains for the salvation of others. To speak of certain holy individuals whom, we collectively call “victim souls” takes us into territory that many Christians often fail to understand the redemptive power of human suffering.

Jesus: I have given you an image of my own heart with a cross in the center. Know that to embrace my heart, one must also be willing to embrace the cross. They go hand in hand. My daughter, do not fear, it is I, Jesus, the living one. I bow down to God, the Father of the Universe. Do not fear, my daughter. I desire a book to be made, entitled, "My Walk with Jesus." I desire souls to read my words to you, for they shall recognize their own sinfulness thru your wretchedness and thus, they shall recognize my great love for them; my great, great heart of love. Sinners shall see themselves in you.

Jesus: My daughter, it is my desire to have a book of my words I have written to you. I desire the title to be "My Walk with Jesus." On the front I desire the image that appears on the band-aid of my bleeding heart with the cross in the middle. Remember, I have provided you with an image of my heart. My heart and cross go hand in hand.

Jesus: These are my words, my daughter. Remember what I have done for all of mankind today. My heart has bled for each and every one of you. Go, my daughter, be at peace. Know that this task shall be difficult but abundant blessings wait for those who do my work upon the earth. My daughter, I know it is difficult. The way is difficult for all those who chose to follow me. I shall guide you, my daughter. This book shall begin upon your death.

Christine: I put my head on his heart. It was then he said, "Are you willing to be a saint?" I was very surprised, me – a saint? From what I remember, it took me three days to answer. I told him yes; I am willing to be a saint.

A few times he would ask me to suffer. It usually took 4–6 months when I would get sick, however the sickness came and went. I would like to adopt St. Theresa's "Little Way" – to remain a child, to enter the kingdom of God.

She also offered herself as a victim soul, not to God's justice but to his merciful love. So now I too offer myself to you, my Holy Trinity, to your merciful love.

Children of Mercy:

Trust me, my daughter, Are you not all Disciples of Mercy? Though I speak to a simple servant, I am speaking directly to your hearts. I have chosen you to bring the youth to me.

They shall be called "Children of Mercy." Oh, my precious children, come to me and experience my mercy first hand. Come taste of my delight, all of you who have been called by my Father.

Be patient, my daughter, you are searching for the fruit when I have only planted the seed. I am the Harvest-Master. I carefully plant each seed in a soul. Now is the time for these children to come to me.

Now is the time for my little ones to learn of my meek and merciful heart. Remember, Satan devours the youth. They are easy prey. My youth group shall succeed. I shall snatch my youth out of the hands of Satan. The world has corrupted my youth. I am their only hope.

My daughter, look at this picture. I am the only light in this picture.

Apart from me, there is darkness. For one to remain in my light, one must never be far from me. I am the only light. I am the only way.

Do not distract the children from me. I should be their only focus. There is time for fun and there is time for prayer. I am the prayer in their heart. Are the children focusing on my Image of Divine Mercy? Remember, from this image flows grace and mercy. Graces are attainable from my image. I have given mankind an image of me. Remember, I appeared before my blessed saint in this manner. Remember, I have said, "have an image made" from what she saw. Remember, I am the only light in this picture. Focus on my merciful heart. Do not try to entertain my youth. Do not let them escape my merciful heart.

My daughter, first establish them in my mercy. Speak about my mercy, pray for my mercy, focus on my mercy. This is all I require at this time. Slowly, they shall grow. They must be first established in my mercy. My merciful heart is like foundation. Once the children are rooted, they shall grow in my love, in my time. Do not force them to eat. (A lot of prayers at once, take time with prayers. pray slowly from the heart. Example: Don't eat three meals in one sitting.) I offer my love freely. Freely, they shall receive – my hand is upon each one of them.

Christine: Lord, what about the time?

Jesus: Be moved by my Spirit. Do not force them (the rosary). Did I force my ones to follow me? (When he said this, it seemed everyone that got healed ASKED him, he never forced). My daughter, I have no perfect curriculum for you. Be lead by my Spirit. There is freedom within my Spirit. First come to my mercy. That is all, my daughter, go in my merciful blessing. I await you (the group).

I felt Jesus shall be waiting in the chapel for the group. It seems Jesus wants them to start out slowly – His mercy being the only foundation. Later, they will branch out into more prayer when they are deeply rooted in Jesus. I know Jesus said "much prayer" before, but prayer from the heart is more powerful than many prayers from the lips only.

Jesus: Remember, this is the time of great mercy. My daughter, it is I who speak to you. These are my words. My words are enough.

Persevere, my children! Persevere! I am waiting for you at the end. I know you are weary. Think of how my saints worked for souls. They toiled in the most difficult circumstances. They worked to please me alone.

Jesus speaks to the Youth:

Focus only on me. Forget school, popularity of friends.

Did the saints worry about popularity; about fitting in? You are lonely for no reason. Set your mind on higher things. Set your mind on heaven and soon your heart shall follow.

Do not set your heart on things below. Do you see how worldly things and occupations take your mind from me? Live in my presence upon the earth.

Detach yourself from creatures. Attach yourself to me alone. Can another soul satisfy your thirst and hunger?
